CHASNEY BEAUTY

Design concept:

Nostalgia meets Novelty, this is one of the best-selling collections in Chasney Beauty heavily inspired by the Victorian Era fashion.

Under Queen Victoria's rule, England enjoyed a period of economic growth along with technological advancement. Mass production of sewing machines in the 1850s as well as the advent of synthetic dyes introduced major changes in fashion. The gender roles became more defined than ever and their dress styles reflected their lifestyle. Victorian fashion was not intended to be utilitarian. Upper class women, who did not need to work, often wore a tightly laced corset over a bodice or chemisette, and paired them with a skirt adorned with numerous embroideries and trims; over layers of petticoats.

The designer put together all the fashion elements from the Victorian Era into the collection, from luxurious Chantilly Leavers lace with eyelashes, narrow lace trims interlacing with satin ribbon as well as fine mesh.... Filled with the feeling of antique and sense of elegance.
